ALABAMA COALITION AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE
Peace on Earth Begins at Home
The Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence is a nonprofit organization dedicated to working toward a peaceful society where domestic violence no longer exists. The Coalition was organized in 1978 as a network of shelters for victims of domestic violence and their children, and organizations and individuals concerned about the issue of domestic violence.

The Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence is a statewide network of community-based programs providing shelter, support, and advocacy to victims of domestic violence and their children.

ACADV’s 19 member programs serve victims of domestic violence by providing the following: emergency shelter; transitional housing; crisis counseling; individual counseling; support group services; specialized programming for children; advocacy; and referrals to other community-based agencies.

ACADV provides a voice for victims of domestic violence through legislative advocacy, promulgation of public policies, and professional development.

ACADV’s Mission

ACADV strives to end domestic violence and create a society that is intolerant to all forms of violence.

The Mission of ACADV is to:

- Prevent Domestic Violence against women by exposing its root causes
- Ensure the availability of services for domestic violence victims
- Expand services systematically so that every victim may obtain needed services
- Help victims and their families rebuild their lives through non-violent means
- Empower victims
- Eliminate the re-victimization of domestic violence victims by individuals, organizations, and society through education and collaboration.

Domestic Violence in the United States

- Approximately 2.3 million people each year in the United States are raped and/or physically assaulted by a current or former spouse, boyfriend or girlfriend. Women who were physically assaulted by an intimate partner averaged 6.9 physical assaults per year by the same partner.

- 41.5% of the women who were physically assaulted by an intimate partner were injured during their most recent assault. Approximately 37% of women seeking injury-related treatment in hospital emergency rooms were there because of injuries inflicted by a current or former spouse or intimate partner.

- Girls and young women between the ages of 16 and 24 experience the highest rate of non-fatal intimate partner violence.

- The costs of intimate partner violence annually exceed $5.8 billion, including $4.1 billion in direct health care expenses, $900 million in lost productivity, and $900 million in lifetime earnings.

NEW NATIONAL DOMESTIC VIOLENCE 24-HOUR CENSUS SURVEY

On September 17, 2008, 78% of identified domestic violence programs in the United States and Territories, or 1,553 out of 2,000 programs, participated in the 2008 National Census of Domestic Violence Services. The following figures represent the information provided by these 1,553 participating programs about services provided during the 24-hour Census survey period.

- 30,433 domestic violence victims found refuge in emergency shelters or transitional housing provided by local domestic violence programs.
- 30,366 adults and children received non-residential services, including individual counseling, legal advocacy, and children’s support groups.
- 21,683 Hotline Calls Answered. Domestic violence hotlines answered more than 14 hotline calls every minute, providing support, information, safety planning, and resources.
- 30,210 People Trained. Programs provided more than 1,400 trainings, where community members gained much needed information on prevention and early intervention.
- 8,927 Unmet Requests for Services. Many programs reported a critical shortage of funds and staff to assist victims in need of services, such as housing, childcare, mental health and substance abuse counseling, and legal representation.

ALABAMA NATIONAL CENSUS SUMMARY

- 649 Victims Served In One Day
- 217 Hotline Calls Answered
- 569 Educated in Prevention and Education Trainings

A Year in Review...

During 2008 the Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence (ACADV) accomplished many of its goals and developed new projects and initiatives to benefit victims of domestic violence throughout our State.

Judicial Response
ACADV worked in partnership with the Administrative Office of Courts to provide domestic violence education for attorneys, judges and court personnel statewide. In addition, ACADV and AOC have developed a E-filing system for protection from abuse orders and domestic violence conditions of release. This system will assist in eliminating duplicate entries; enhancing the amount of information available to verify protection orders and improving overall statistical reporting for local, state and federal notification systems.

Domestic Violence Courts
In addition to the education projects, ACADV provided technical assistance to four new domestic violence courts in Alabama. These courts designate judicial officers and court staff to handle domestic violence cases and include model best practices such as: (1) fast tracking cases; (2) imposing conditions on bond when appropriate; (3) holding compliance review hearings; (4) convening meetings of all system stakeholders to improve access to justice; (5) designating DV dockets; (6) enhancing role of victims advocates and (6) improving communication and information through use of technology.

Parental Visitation Project
ACADV continues to monitor and provide technical assistance to perpetrator intervention programs statewide. The Certification Standards provide minimum mandates for community based programs seeking to provide court ordered or voluntary services to those charged or convicted of domestic violence crimes. These programs differ from anger management programs in that they are specifically designed to address the power and control beliefs and tactics that are the underlying causes of domestic violence. A copy of these Standards is available at the ACADV website www.acadv.org.

Perpetrator Intervention Programs
ACADV continues to monitor and provide technical assistance to perpetrator intervention programs statewide. The Certification Standards provide minimum mandates for community based programs seeking to provide court ordered or voluntary services to those charged or convicted of domestic violence crimes. These programs differ from anger management programs in that they are specifically designed to address the power and control beliefs and tactics that are the underlying causes of domestic violence. A copy of these Standards is available at the ACADV website www.acadv.org.

Marriage Initiative Partnership
Auburn University received funding to provide resources to local communities for education programs focused on building healthy relationships. ACADV partnered with Auburn University to include domestic violence education and referral information for the project.

State Plan on Violence Against Women
In 2006, the Council on Violence Against Women revised Alabama’s State Plan on Violence Against Women. This plan includes recommendations for various professions on model practices and responses to domestic violence cases. Throughout the last fiscal year, ACADV has worked to distribute and implement the Plan’s recommendations. A copy of the Plan may be downloaded from ACADV’s website, www.acadv.org.

Law Enforcement Response
ACADV sponsors specialized training for the law enforcement community by providing on-site seminars for local departments. Our experienced law enforcement trainers provided seminars to over 1,000 law enforcement officers during the last fiscal year. ACADV also provides model protocols, policies and guidelines to local departments and communities to improve responses to domestic violence victims and perpetrators.

Prosecution Response
ACADV works in partnership with prosecutors to develop specialized domestic violence units that provide designated personnel to aggressively prosecute misdemeanor domestic violence cases. Specialized units incorporate model practices such as: (1) vertical prosecution; (2) enhanced coordination with victims and victim advocates; (3) increased evidence collection techniques and (4) enhanced penalties for repeat offenders.

Supervised Visitation Project
Often domestic violence perpetrators maintain visitation rights with their children but in some cases perpetrators misuse the visitation privileges by continuing their abusive tactics against the victim. For the past 2 years, ACADV has worked with a committee of experts to develop a plan for establishing supervised visitation centers in Alabama. This committee is also developing model policies and best practices for the administration of supervised visitation centers. The committee is developing a plan to train key stakeholders.

Co-Occurring Work Group
For many victims of domestic violence, there are also challenges associated with substance abuse and mental health issues. For the past year, ACADV has worked with key stakeholders to address these issues and how to best serve clients who face all of these issues. ACADV has been awarded an HHS grant to work with two domestic violence programs in the state to implement model programs to assist with victims who also have substance abuse and mental health issues. The work group is developing a needs assessment and reviewing model protocols. There will also be cross training of domestic violence program personnel and substance abuse/mental health providers.
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND PUBLIC EDUCATION

ACADV offers training on domestic violence to various professions including but not limited to: law enforcement, prosecutors, attorneys, health care professionals, child welfare workers, judicial personnel, corporate employees, advocates and the public.

During Fiscal Year 2008 ACADV provided training to:
- Over 500 advocates
- 1,050 law enforcement personnel
- Over 500 attorneys, court personnel, judges and other criminal justice professionals.
- Over 300 social service providers, human resource professionals and community based organizations

HOMELESS MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM

Homeless Management Information System (HMIS) is a database to track services given to homeless individuals or families or those at-risk of homelessness. The Department of Housing and Urban Development supplies grants for the operation and management of these systems. In the fall of 2003, no organized system of services existed for the homeless in 43 rural Alabama counties. The Alabama Rural Coalition for the Homeless (ARCH) formed to build a network of homeless services. An HMIS grant was awarded to the Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence (ACADV) through ARCH to organize and track the network of services for the homeless in these counties. ACADV hired a database administrator and trainer and began training agencies and entering data in February of 2008. Participation in HMIS is a requirement to seeking HUD funds. Although domestic violence programs cannot enter identifying information in the HMIS database due to laws prohibiting it, ACADV does supply aggregate data to HMIS. With HMIS, domestic violence programs are eligible to seek funding from HUD for emergency shelter, prevention of homelessness and transition housing for their clients. ACADV has collaborated with the state HMIS steering committee to establish standards in entering data. HMIS will give us our first look at the number of homeless across the state to identify gaps in order to seek funding for services our clients need. In this past year, six groups were added to the HMIS system.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT INTERVENTION LIASION PROJECT

The Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence and the Alabama State Department of Human Resources have formed a collaborative relationship to establish the Special Assessment Intervention and Liaison (SAIL) Project. The SAIL project provides, under contract, specific domestic violence assessment and services to eligible clients. The services are designed to assist clients in removing barriers to self-sufficiency. In addition, the Specialist provide each client with assistance in safety planning and assist DHR in development and revision of Family Responsibility, Work Action and/or Individual Service Plans. This past year, 1,427 clients were served as a part of the SAIL Project. In addition, $251,415.62 was spent assisting 682 clients.

COMMISSION ON WOMEN AND GIRLS IN THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

In 2006 the Alabama Legislature established this Commission to review the latest research and practices related to the incarceration and rehabilitation of women and girls. Chaired by Representative Barbara Boyd, the Commission completed an ambitious goal of analyzing the needs of juvenile and adult females incarcerated in Department of Youth Services and Department of Corrections facilities. In its two year study, the Commission has found that gender difference among the incarcerated must be addressed in order to provide the most effective and cost efficient responses. In February 2008, the Commission released its findings in the report One Size Does Not Fit All: Research and Recommendations for Gender-Responsiveness in Alabama’s Criminal Justice System. The Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence participated in this process through representation on the Commission, supporting planning and development of the report, and providing recommendations specific to victims of domestic violence incarcerated in juvenile and adult facilities.
FULL FAITH AND CREDIT: PROJECT PASSPORT

ACADV Continues to Partner With The National Center for State Courts on Full Faith and Credit
ACADV Provides Assistance For NAICJA Annual Meeting at Choctaw Reservation in Philadelphia MS

The ACADV assisted the National Center for State Courts (NCSC) and the National American Indian Court Judges Association (NAICJA) in providing education for the NAICJA 2007 Annual Conference on October 15, 2007. ACADV staff spoke to the Conference attendees on “Extending Project Passport: Getting Everyone on the Same Page.” The session focused on encouraging Tribal judges to adopt or support adoption of the model first page of protection orders for their tribal orders. Under the Violence Against Women’s Act, full faith and credit in the enforcement of protection orders extends to orders issued by Indian courts and to the enforcement of orders issued by states, other tribes and U.S. territories. During the session, several Indian judges expressed support for the project and described the process the followed to implement the format for the Passport model in their jurisdictions.

ACADV Participates in Small Group Meeting in Boston

The ACADV participated in a Small Group Meeting following up on the Regional meetings on full faith and credit in the enforcement of foreign protection orders and Project Passport. The Passport Project, which was initiated by Kentucky and its surrounding states, focuses on encouraging all jurisdictions to adopt a recognizable first page of their protection orders to ensure ease of enforcement by foreign jurisdictions. The Small Group Meeting in Boston sought to identify challenges and strategies, including consensus building strategies, in state and tribal efforts to garner support for implementing the model format. It also focused on developing a national survey and needs assessment to plan future activities.

The meeting was held in two stages. A meeting was first held with representatives of state and tribal jurisdictions who attended the regional meetings and who provided information on current efforts to implement the recognizable first page. This meeting was followed by a meeting of the Project Partners to assess the information gathered and plan implementation of project objectives for the coming year. The partners also discussed peripheral issues not directly related to the implementation of the Passport model format.

Project partners include the National Center for State Courts, the National Criminal Justice Association, the National American Indian Court Judges Association, National Center on Full Faith and Credit, Battered Women Justice Project, Southwest Center for Law and Policy, as well as the Alabama Coalition Against Domestic Violence. Attending the meeting from the Southeastern Region were key representatives of the Mississippi Attorney General’s Office and Arkansas Administrative of Courts.

Key Concepts of “Project Passport” Model Template

- RECOGNIZABILITY
- Consistency in FORMAT
- ALL info for facial validity on ONE PAGE -- Page One
- Passes “squint test”

Benefits of “Passport” Model Template

- Commonly agreed up elements & format
- Recognized across jurisdictions
- Identifies Federal gun law prohibitions
- Enhances enforcement
- Flexible to jurisdictional and statutory requirements
- Facilitates sharing common data nationally
- Strengthens sovereignty for jurisdictions

Why Project Passport?

Every temporary or final injunction, protective order, or restraining order properly issued by a state, tribal, or U.S. territorial court must be given full faith and credit by the court and law enforcement agencies of another state, tribe or U.S. territory and enforced as if it were the order of the enforcing State or Tribe.—Full Faith and Credit Provision of the Violence Against Women Act - 18 USC 2265 (a).
DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IN THE WORKPLACE

In 2004, ACADV formed the Employee Assistance Program, Domestic Violence Working Group to develop policies and protocols for employers throughout Alabama.

Members of the working group included representatives from:

- YWCA, Birmingham
- Alabama Society of Human Resource Managers
- Montgomery Police Department
- Birmingham Civil Rights Institute
- Gateway Family Services
- Wachovia Bank
- The Women’s Fund of Greater Birmingham
- o2 Ideas
- Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.
- University of Alabama at Birmingham
- Alabama Dept. of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.
- Southern Co.
- Family Sunshine Center
- Movie Gallery
- Verizon Wireless

Goals for the Project Include:

- Developing model workplace policies to provide support and safety for domestic violence victims and employees.
- Developing recommendations for promoting employee awareness about domestic violence.
- Developing recommendations for training for all levels of employees.
- Developing a plan to distribute the model guidelines to agencies, businesses and corporations.

Accomplishments:

- In 2006, Domestic Violence in the Workplace, A Guide for Employers was published. Verizon Wireless partnered with ACADV to print copies of the manual. Since its creation over 2700 manuals have been distributed statewide.
- Recommendations for written workplace policies were included in the 2006 State Plan on Violence Against Women and the Governor’s Proclamation designating October 2007 as Domestic Violence Awareness month. County Domestic Violence Coordinated Community Response Teams were encouraged to invite local business representatives as members.
- In May 2008 an executive leadership seminar to promote partnerships between domestic violence programs and the business community.
- In September 2008 an on-site presentation at SMART, a supplier of Hyundai was held on workplace domestic violence.

HOW YOU CAN HELP
STOP DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

- Ensure your workplace has a policy on responding to co-workers who are victims or perpetrators.
- Volunteer for a local domestic violence program.
- Become educated on the causes and consequences of domestic violence.
- Display a 1-800 DV Hotline Bumper Sticker on your vehicle.
- Ask your local faith organization to become involved in DV awareness projects.
- Place domestic violence hotline posters in your office ladies’ restroom.
- Challenge local community leaders to help make responding to domestic violence a priority.
- Attend local domestic violence awareness activities.
- Ask your State Representatives to support legislation that assist victims of domestic violence.
- If someone confides in you that they are being abused, tell them it is not their fault and there is help available.

Domestic Violence Hotline

A Coordinated Community Response Team (CCR) brings together organizations, agencies and local community members to accomplish the following: (1) enhance coordination among all stakeholder and system players; (2) increase resources for victims; (3) increase accountability for abusers; (4) enhance safety of victims and (5) develop model practices and policies to improve systemic responses to domestic violence cases.

Since each community is unique, the collaboration needs to reflect the needs, the resources and the gaps that exist. In order to have the most effective interventions, policies and protocols need to be discussed, strengthened or changed to ensure victim safety and abuser accountability.

WHAT A CCR TEAM CAN ACCOMPLISH!

- Professional Development: CCR Teams provide local seminars and education materials for various professions and the public.

- Awareness: CCR Teams hold awareness events such as candlelight vigils, walk-a-thons, ribbon campaigns and radio and television ads.

- Policy and System Change: CCR Teams develop policy initiatives to promote positive systemic change such as: developing Fatality Review Team projects like those being developed by Mobile and Washington County Domestic Violence Task Forces; providing model domestic violence policies for various professionals and developing policy changes to promote victim safety and perpetrator accountability. Examples of policy initiatives include: (1) ensuring local housing policies include new HUD federal guidelines for assisting domestic violence victims; (2) screening and identification policies for health care providers; (3) incorporating domestic violence supplemental report form with the law enforcement incident offense report files; (4) promoting domestic violence designated dockets for courts and (5) providing faith communities with a new resources on responding to domestic violence victims. For model recommendations on systemic change, CCR Teams should review the 2006 Alabama State Plan on Violence Against Women which may be found on the ACADV website, www.acadv.org.

CCR HIGHLIGHT

JEFFERSON COUNTY COORDINATED COMMUNITY RESPONSE

The CCR began as a project of the Safety Committee of the Jefferson County Children's Policy Cooperative. The first step was to initiate a series of monthly Brown Bag Lunch presentations to build trust and stakeholder buy-in, and to begin a dialogue about how a CCR might operate in our community. In January 2007, a steering committee formed to address the details necessary to the formation of a CCR in Jefferson County. The Steering Committee explored infrastructure needs, identified funding resources, investigated feasibility of one core organization serving as fiscal agent, and considered qualifications for policy analyst position. Soon after, in April 2007, The Women's Fund of Greater Birmingham, through their Voices Against Violence Initiative, provided funding for the CCR's part-time administrator position. The mission of the CCR is “to bring different agencies together to ensure the safety of domestic violence victims, consistently hold perpetrators accountable for their violence, and change the climate in the community so that we can reduce family violence.” By researching best practices, reviewing responders’ policies, and providing technical assistance when needed, CCR’s primary program objective is to establish effective, complementary policies dealing with victim safety and offender accountability in local courts and agencies.

Recently, the CCR facilitated discussions between the Sheriff’s Office and Family Court to encourage enhancement of service of Protection From Abuse Orders originating in Family Court and served by Sheriff’s deputies. By working together to draft a policy for service that both entities agreed upon, CCR anticipates an increase in the number of Protection Orders served within the statutory 14 day time period. By meeting together, personnel from each entity communicated about the successes and challenges faced by each, and shared contact information that will be useful in the future. The success of these entities working together is integral to victim safety.

Funding from the Verizon Foundation allowed CCR to continue the teen dating violence intervention programs in local middle schools and high schools. CCR programs in classrooms provide a safe environment for teens to ask questions and participate in discussions that challenge them to seek healthy relationships, and reveal warning signs of unhealthy relationships. Most importantly, teens are pointed toward local community resources where they can receive assistance.
ALABAMA DOMESTIC VIOLENCE LAWS

The Alabama Legislature has made Alabama homes and communities safer by establishing the following laws:

1981 Protection from Abuse Statute
1981 Marriage License Fee Statute
1989 Warrantless Arrest Statute
1993 Family Violence Enforcement Statute
1995 Rebuttable Presumption Custody Statute
1997 Program Standards & Certification Statute
2000 Domestic Violence Bail Statute
2000 Domestic Violence as a Crime Statute

These laws have enhanced the safety of victims and their children and created tools to hold perpetrators accountable for the violence. We greatly appreciate the dedication of our sponsors and members of the legislature for continuing to support our efforts to protect victims and make our communities and our State safe for all its citizens. On behalf of our member programs and victims of domestic violence throughout Alabama, we thank you!

ACADV LEGISLATIVE AGENDA 2009

- HB 552 Revising the Protection from Abuse Act
- HB 553 Revising the Family Violence Enforcement Act
- HB 207 Establishing Domestic Violence Fatality Review Teams
- HB 386/SB 292 General Fund Allocation to Domestic Violence Shelters

During our annual meeting, ACADV awarded Representative Jeff McLaughlin and Senator Hinton Mitchem Legislator of the Year awards for their assistance in sponsoring legislation and supporting passage of funding to assist victims of domestic violence.

DATA DISCLAIMER

The data included in this report was compiled from the following sources: (1) ACADV member program date reporting system; (2) Alabama Criminal Justice Information Center statistical reports; (3) Administrative Office of Courts Protection from Abuse Database; and (4) direct AADV program surveys. The data compiled is reflective only of those incidents and services REPORTED to the above data systems and therefore are lower than the actual incidents or services due to lack of reporting, data entry problems and calculation errors. ACADV programs provide services to all 67 counties in Alabama but the distribution of service areas is different from the Alabama Legislative Districts resulting in multiple domestic violence programs covering the various legislative districts.

The Outreach Services data category includes a variety of services that may or may not be provided by all domestic violence programs. These services include court advocacy, community support groups for adults and children, counseling and crisis work for adults and children not staying in shelter, and case management for victims in conjunction with other community based agencies. In addition, some programs may provide these services but do not collect the data under the specific category of Outreach Services.

The data periods are as follows: (1) assault data for 2007; (2) protection order data for 2006-2008 and (3) domestic violence service data for 2008.
