2012 Annual Report to the
Arizona Attorney General
January 11, 2013

To the Arizona Domestic Violence Community:

As the Chair of the East Valley Chiefs Association (EVPCA), it is my pleasure to present this annual report to the Attorney General on the work and activities of the East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team during the calendar year 2012. This was our third year reviewing domestic violence related death cases, making recommendations for system change/improvement, and working towards the implementation of those changes. Our goal continues to be to improve systems that may lead to the prevention of domestic violence related deaths.

In the East Valley Communities, domestic violence continues to be among the most common calls for service in law enforcement. Many were calls that involved acts of physical violence. These cases represent not only a danger to the parties involved, but to the community in general and especially to the first responders whose job it is to intervene, provide resources and safety to victims, and enforcement of the law upon abusers. The East Valley Chiefs Association, through the East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team, remains committed to continuing the work of preventing domestic violence related deaths and near deaths through this prevention strategy.

Chief Alan Rodbell
EVPCA Chairperson
Scottsdale Police Department
A message from the East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team Co-Chairs:

As Co-Chairs of the East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team (EVDVFRT), we are pleased to share our annual report with you. The East Valley Team was created in 2010, following approvals by the member agencies governing bodies. The City Councils of Chandler, Tempe, Mesa, Gilbert, Scottsdale and Apache Junction all authorized participation through an Intergovernmental Agreement (IGA).

This report describes the case review conducted in 2012, a Mesa murder/suicide. The information that came from this case review was significant and provided the team with a foundation upon which several recommendations for system change were made. As these recommendations are implemented, positive changes will occur within the systems designed to assist those caught in abusive, violent relationships.

Team members are appointed for a three-year term and sign a confidentiality agreement at each meeting. The process for replacing members, which may be needed from time to time, is outlined in the By-Laws under Article IV (See Appendage 1).

The Co-Chairs would like to acknowledge the dedication and commitment shown to this effort by the team members, who not only represent themselves as professional and caring individuals, but also represent their agencies in a very positive manner. The energy and enthusiasm of each team member contributed greatly to the overall success of the case review.

Executive Summary

The mission of the East Valley Police Chiefs Association (EVPCA) is to enhance cooperation among law enforcement, criminal justice agencies and related partners primarily in the East Valley. Entities in both Maricopa County and Pinal County make up Association members. These entities come together in agreement to share information; assist and cooperate in investigations; and to build partnerships that will promote efficiency and effectiveness in the prevention of crime. EVPCA member agencies include: Apache Junction, Arizona State University, Chandler, Gila River, Gilbert, Maricopa, Mesa, Paradise Valley, Phoenix, Salt River, Scottsdale and Tempe.

In 2010, the East Valley Chiefs Association approved the establishment of an East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team, to function under the direction of the East Valley Chiefs Association. Six of the member cities came together and formally created the team using an Intergovernmental Agreement (IGA) to ensure compliance with the Arizona Revised Statute (ARS § 41-198). Those six cities are: Tempe, Apache Junction, Mesa, Scottsdale, Chandler and Gilbert. A Chandler case was reviewed in 2010 and a Scottsdale case in 2011.

The East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team selected a Mesa case to review in 2012. The case was a murder/suicide. During team discussions, it was agreed that reviewing additional murder/suicide cases had specific advantages and could assist in implementation of recommendations from previous case reviews. This proved to be true in the 2012 case review as several issues emerged that were similar to the other cases previously reviewed. The 2012 case review once again saw good team participation, high levels of energy and interest, and lively discussion during the presentations and when recommendations were being brought forward.

The collective goal of the team is to ensure the recommendations from these case reviews are implemented. By implementing these recommendations, system change can continue to take place, creating a more effective intervention into those families who are experiencing domestic violence with potential for a lethal or extremely violent outcome.

The 2012 case review was provided by the Mesa Police Department (MPD) and involved a murder/suicide dating/intimate partner relationship. A young adult male offender and a young adult female victim died at the scene by gun shot. Detectives from the MPD Domestic Violence Unit opened the review with a comprehensive presentation of the case. The investigator provided great detail which allowed the team to gain valuable insight as they considered what direction to take the review in subsequent meetings. Members of the MPD Domestic Violence Unit assisted by contacting affected family members. They also arranged for guest presenters to address questions.

The Case Review concluded with three key findings resulting in five recommendations. The implementation of each recommendation seems feasible. The recommendations are the outcome of meetings and review discussion that took place over the course of several months in 2012.

Case Selection

Chief Milstead and Chief Monahan were selected as Co-Chairs for 2012, with the Mesa Police Department providing the case for review. The review began in March 2012 and concluded in August 2012.

The selected case involved the murder of a young adult female. The suspect was her young adult male boyfriend who committed suicide after her murder. The acts were committed with a handgun outside the home of the female. Case history revealed prior attempts at suicide by the boyfriend, including one serious attempt while in the military. While the relationship between the victim and suspect was very short, the suspect’s military and personal history allowed the team to explore a number of system contacts and examine the effectiveness of each.

Review Process

The team began the case review on March 22\textsuperscript{nd}, 2012, at the MPD Headquarters on Robson Road. Meetings also took place at the MPD Red Mountain District Office on University Drive.

Detectives from MPD presented the investigation of the murder/suicide. The presentation included information on the history of the short relationship between the victim and suspect, the suspect’s prior history of suicide attempts, military service, and family history which all appeared to have a bearing on the final act. The meetings, which were held in March, April, May, June, and August, focused on various aspects and activities in connection with this case. Detective and other members of the MPD Domestic Violence Unit were present for each meeting. They provided clarification for team members and assisted with gathering additional information, contacting and scheduling appearances with family members and guest speakers. The mother of the deceased suspect met with the team for close to two hours. After telling her story, she allowed the team members to ask questions about the family dynamics and about her relationship with her son.
Information about the prior suicide attempt was explored by the team. There was little information available from the military, but the team was able to gain much information about what services are in place in the military for members and their families. A police investigation about another attempted suicide was available and provided valuable insight into the suspect’s thinking about how a suicide would be carried out.

The review process also included extensive review of text messaging that took place between a family member of the victim and the suspect just hours before the murder occurred. Information appeared to have been provided to the suspect that contributed to the suspect’s thinking and may have played a role in the decision to murder when initially it appeared the suspect was intending to commit suicide in front of the victim.

Key Findings

The following are the key findings identified by the East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team.

- Information about the suspect’s prior suicide attempt in the military and what treatment was available and provided to the suspect was not available to the suspect’s family and unable to be used by them in assisting the suspect’s return to civilian life.

- Communication by the victim’s step-mother to the suspect possibly played a part in the suspect’s decision to commit murder/suicide instead of just suicide.

- Following mandatory hospitalization for a threatened suicide attempt not related to the suspect’s military service, no follow up or treatment options were communicated to the suspect’s family.

Recommendations

The following recommendations were made at the conclusion of the case review after considerable discussion by the East Valley Domestic Violence Fatality Review Team.

- Law enforcement and military interaction. Increase Arizona Peace Officers Standards and Training Board sponsored law enforcement training on returning military personnel who may be suffering with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI).

- Creation of a liaison between law enforcement, the military and the mental health community.
Training for Batterer Intervention and Crisis Line personnel that includes lethality and risk assessment.

Discussion with the Mental Health Community about the threat of suicide being also considered a danger to others, even if the threat is just to oneself.

Increase dating violence/healthy relationship curriculum in schools.
