Domestic Violence Statistics Don't Tell the Whole Story

As you are aware, domestic violence affects us all, either through a family member who is a victim or through a friend, an acquaintance, or a co-worker. In the last 30 years, we have seen tremendous progress: Congress passed the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA); the state legislature created and strengthened laws to protect victims of domestic violence, and our member agencies have strengthened their services and initiated new and needed programs in underserved communities. This spirit of collaboration has increased both the general public's awareness about domestic violence and available services.

This progress is tempered by the fact that too many lives are still lost, too many children are still scarred after having witnessed domestic violence and victims are still too often frustrated by the barriers they face in seeking safety, economic empowerment, and justice. Sadly, from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010, there were 63 individuals in Indiana who lost their lives as a result of domestic violence. Of those individuals, 56 percent were female and 44 percent were male ranging in age from 7 months to 79 years of age.

Domestic Violence Does Not Discriminate . . .

against gender, race, socio-economic, marital status or age. More than 5,840 adults and 5,400 children were served in emergency shelters in the state of Indiana. In addition, more than 64,300 people reached out for help by calling a Crisis Line. ICADV leads the way in prevention, awareness and advocacy to bring an end to domestic violence in our state. Obtaining a protective order is often a necessary step for victims to break free from domestic violence. The civil process can be very scary and difficult for anyone—much less someone who is opposing someone in court who has possibly hurt them. The Protective Order Pro Bono Project (POPBO) provides pro bono legal assistance to indigent victims of domestic and intimate partner violence in Marion County as they seek to obtain and enforce the orders for protection designed by Indiana law to protect them. Working closely with the Indiana University School of Law at Indianapolis, the POPBP recruits and trains lawyers and law students willing to donate their time to victims of abuse.

Program Highlights

Primary Prevention

ICADV was awarded funding as a Delta Prep state through a competitive grant process from the Center for Disease Control (CDC), to address primary prevention. The three-year project will support the implementation of primary prevention activities within the coalition and statewide with program partners. Upon completion of prevention activities ICADV will then offer primary prevention training to domestic violence services providers, law enforcement, and other agencies both public and private.

The Delta Prep grant provided seed money to support the Coalition in developing staff expertise and organizational capacity for primary prevention work. ICADV was selected as a Delta Prep state because of the progressive work that the coalition was involved with in the field of primary prevention, including organizing groups of men to volunteer as allies in violence prevention in communities around the state. Since receiving the grant, members of the Board of Directors and staff have worked systematically to incorporate primary prevention across the Coalition's philosophy and spheres of action.

In February of 2010, ICADV was awarded funding for the second year of the project. Efforts continued to develop capacity for primary prevention (PP) within the coalition and to increase collaborative efforts with state and community based partners to prepare for statewide PP work.

Training Initiatives

Training is a core component of services offered by ICADV. More than 3,300 individuals received training last year and was conducted for local programs and professionals including those representing underserved communities, working with victims of domestic violence and their families.

ICADV operates a comprehensive training program that addressed training needs for member programs, domestic violence organizations and other public and private agencies throughout the state. Training focuses on prevention and intervention issues related to domestic violence and include the following groups and core topics:

- Law Enforcement
- Chemical Dependency/Mental Health
- Core Advocacy
- Membership Training
- Lethality Assessment Program
- Regional Trainings
- Domestic Violence 101
- Cultural Competency
- Domestic Violence Fatality Review
- Batterers Intervention Program (BIP)
- Economic Empowerment
- Technology Safety
- Legal

Program Highlights

Cultural Competency

How do people from different cultures deal with issues regarding domestic violence? What role does ethnicity play in how relationships are addressed? ICADV conducted a “Cultural Competency” training attended by 16 secondary school counselors at George Washington High School. The counselors wanted to learn about the African American, Hispanic and Burmese cultural differences reflecting an increasing student population from these cultures.

The training is most often directed at domestic violence programs and staff who are encouraged to reach out to religious and secular leaders in their communities who can provide insight and possible intervention. In addition, the training helps educate domestic violence programs to accommodate cultural differences.

ICADV provides many educational materials in Spanish and has two bi-lingual staff who provide language assistance.

Annual Conference

The 27th Annual Fall Conference was held at the Indianapolis Marriott East October 20 & 21, 2009. The theme, Take it personally, Harvesting Peace, continued the work of the 26th Annual Fall Conference. More than 260 individuals, including domestic violence advocates, social workers, law enforcement, prosecutors, attorneys and other domestic violence professionals attended the conference.

Emphasizing prevention efforts, ICADV hosted nationally recognized prevention expert Lydia Guy Ortiz. Ms. Guy Ortiz presented the keynote address and workshops focusing on prevention of gender-based violence, addressing strategies, successes, activities and resources. The conference included prevention track and administrative tracks, in addition to workshops focusing on advocacy, diversity and other issues in domestic violence.

Program Highlights

Technical Assistance

ICADV has a technical assistance program that is available to all domestic violence programs and professionals working with victims of domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. More than 10,500 technical assistance requests were fielded in 2009/10. Technical assistance represents a core component of ICADV services. Recipients are domestic violence programs, survivors/individuals, law enforcement, prosecutors, health care providers, task forces, mental health agencies, legislators, and students. This program addresses training issues, personnel management, program development, system advocacy, organizational management, peer review, legal issues, volunteer management, grant writing, resource development, fiscal management, reaching underserved populations, and fiscal management.

Legal Resource Project

The ICADV legal department provided legal assistance to domestic violence programs by providing technical assistance and training to legal advocates and their organizations on matters affecting victims. The project also provided direct legal assistance on protective order issues to more than 100 low income victims in the Marion County area through the development of a network of pro bono attorneys and volunteer law students.

Protective Order Advocacy Project

The ICADV advocates located in Marion County Superior Court 21 provided assistance to more than 2,600 individuals needing assistance with protective orders. They provided emotional and practical support to victims in obtaining and enforcing protective orders, crisis intervention, safety planning, community referrals and help navigating the criminal justice system. They also provided training about the project to outreach advocates and other community referrals.

Membership

ICADV worked with and provided support to the more than 130 providers, partner, patron, personal, and governmental members of the coalition. In addition to providing technical assistance, ICADV worked closely with coalition members on many issues supporting victims. ICADV implemented regional “Town Hall” meetings with members to share best practices, and to discuss challenges in service delivery.

BARNES & THORNBURG LLP

30th Anniversary GALA

ICADV commemorated 30 years of providing domestic violence services in Indiana by hosting “Night and Day: Bringing Light into the Darkness” to 240 guests at the Oak Hill Mansion. Honorary Chairs of the event were Angela Cain, Michael Maurer, Laurie McRobbie, and Judy O’Bannon. Barnes and Thornburg, LLP served as Presenting Sponsor of the event.

Statewide Crisis Line

ICADV provided direct emotional and practical support to more than 1,000 victims of domestic violence through the statewide 24-hour toll free crisis line and the ICADV administrative telephone line. Individuals calling receive crisis counseling, information and referrals, criminal justice and legal support, and other assistance.

Economic Justice Advocacy Project

This project provided financial support (acquired through donations from foundations, agencies, organizations, and individuals) to victims to assist them in reaching self-sufficiency. The financial assistance was used to support transportation needs, utility bills, rent deposits, credit counseling, and other needs that will assist a victim in reaching self-sufficiency.

Program Highlights

Claire's Comfort for Kids

ICADV worked with the Indianapolis Colts and local law enforcement agencies to provide blankets to children who were at domestic violence or other crime/fire scenes.

Public Awareness

ICADV communicated about the issue of domestic violence through many different media, including public awareness events, exhibits, social marketing (Facebook, You Tube, and Twitter), E-Newsletters, distribution of educational materials, PSAs, and other opportunities. In addition to public awareness activities targeting the general public, ICADV also focused on un-served, underserved, racial, ethnic, or language-minority populations. New brochures were developed in English and Spanish. Nearly 43,000 educational materials were distributed throughout the state to domestic violence agencies, universities, health care facilities, law enforcement offices, prosecutor's offices, other service providers and the general public.

The public awareness committee also developed public awareness campaigns during Stalking Awareness Month, Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month, and Victims' Rights Week.

NEW Logo and Website

ICADV unveiled a new purple logo, which corresponded with the color associated with "domestic violence" and also worked with a marketing firm to develop a NEW Website!

ICADV Key Collaborations

ICADV collaborated with many public and private agencies to improve statewide victim services. Here are just a few:

Child Protection Services: ICADV participated with DCS in the development of a statewide protocol between Law Enforcement Agencies and DCS regarding domestic violence. The purpose of the protocol is to clearly define when and how quickly Law Enforcement Agencies should involve the Department of Child Services in domestic violence situations as well as what should be expected from the Department of Child Services staff once they are contacted.

Office of Attorney General: ICADV worked with the Office of Attorney General to create and distribute a video regarding the Address Confidentiality Program. The video was targeted to service providers who assist domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking victims, to inform them of the program and the process of applying to the ACP.

Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Council: ICADV Executive Director, along with nine additional individuals was appointed to the Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Council. The Council worked on the development of a White Paper in 2010 to guide service providers when applying for grants and is also developing a Statewide Five Year Plan, which is expected to be rolled out in 2011.

Indiana Criminal Justice Institute: ICADV worked with the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute (ICJI) on several important collaborations, including the transition of domestic violence statewide funding from FSSA to ICJI, revision of Indiana's STOP Implementation Plan, OVW Compliance issues, STOP/VOCA Recovery Act Implementation Plan, and the revision of state grant applications.

Protective Order Registry Project (POR)- ICADV worked with The Indiana Supreme Court, Judicial Technology and Automation Committee (JTAC) to deploy the Protective Order Registry in all 92 counties and assisted in the launch of the Public Access section of the registry. The Public Access section allows victim advocates to complete an Order of Protection on-line through INCITE on behalf of a domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking victims.

ICADV

Vision: ICADV pursues a vision where all people engage in healthy relationships characterized by the mutual sharing of resources, responsibilities and affection; where youth are nurtured with those expectations; and where all people are supported within a society committed to equality in relationships and equity in opportunity as fundamental human rights.

Mission: ICADV works to eliminate domestic violence through the implementation of prevention programs including public education, advocacy for system and societal change, influencing public policy and allocation of resources. Until the violence is ended, ICADV works to promote, strengthen and provide quality comprehensive services for member programs and all individuals affected by domestic violence across the state.

Philosophy: ICADV believes that violence is endemic to our society. We believe patriarchal values and attitudes support and perpetuate violence and we seek to confront the roots of that violence within ourselves and within larger economic, social and political systems

- We believe that no human being deserves to be beaten or violated by another.
- We believe in the right of all persons to live without fear, oppression, or sexual, emotional or physical abuse.
- We believe domestic violence is the use of force or threat to achieve and maintain control over others in personal relationships.
- We believe domestic violence is preventable.
- We believe batterers should be held accountable for their actions.
- We believe in inclusiveness and respect for diversity.
- We believe in the empowerment of individuals to achieve self-determination.
- We are committed to the ideas and practices of a supportive, non-competitive atmosphere in ICADV, which fosters open communications, respect and cooperation among all members of the coalition.
- We believe the elimination of domestic violence is best achieved by utilizing a multi-faceted approach.

We believe that while the majority of victims of domestic violence are women and children, everyone is affected by it and the solution involves everyone.

'10 Domestic Violence Counts Indiana Summary

On September 15, 2010, 45 out of 49, or 92%, of identified local domestic violence programs in Indiana participated in the 2010 National Census of Domestic Violence Services. The following figures represent the information provided by 45 participating programs about services provided during the 24-hour survey period.

2,001 Victims Served in One Day

1,042 domestic violence victims found refuge in emergency shelters or transitional housing provided by local domestic violence programs.

959 adults and children received non-residential assistance and services, including individual counseling, legal advocacy, and children's support groups.

This chart shows the percentage of programs that provided the following services on the Census Day.

Services Provided by Local Programs:	Sept. 15
Individual Support or Advocacy	98%
Emergency Shelter (including hotels/safe houses)	64%
Transportation	49%
Financial Skills/Budgeting	29%
Advocacy Related to Mental Health	24%
Advocacy Related to Child Welfare/Protective Services	24%
Advocacy/Support to Teen Victims of Dating Violence	13%
Legal Representation by an Attorney	4%

446 Hotline Calls Answered

Domestic violence hotlines are a lifeline for victims in danger, providing support, information, safety planning, and resources. In the 24-hour survey period, domestic violence programs answered more than 19 hotline calls every hour.

100 Unmet Requests for Services

Many programs reported a critical shortage of funds and staff to assist victims in need of services, such as emergency shelter, housing, transportation, childcare, and legal representation. Of these unmet requests, 73 (73%) were from victims seeking emergency shelter or transitional housing.

Programs were unable to provide services for many reasons:

- 38% reported not enough funding for needed programs and services.
- 27% reported not enough staff.
- 18% reported no available beds or funding for hotels.
- 18% reported not enough specialized services.
- 11% reported limited funding for translators, bilingual staff, or accessible equipment.

82% of Programs Reported Higher Demand for Services

As communities continue to experience job loss and decreased community resources, 82% of programs reported a rise in demand for services, while at the same time 76% of programs reported a decrease in funding.

"A survivor came to our program today for help because she was inspired by her 22-year-old daughter who is also in an abusive relationship and has been coming to our support group."

ICADV works to eliminate domestic violence through the implementation of prevention programs including public education, advocacy for system and societal change, influencing public policy and allocation of resources. Until the violence is ended, ICADV works to promote, strengthen and provide quality comprehensive services for member programs and all individuals affected by domestic violence in all 92 counties across the state. ICADV currently provides supportive services to more than 50 domestic violence shelters and non-residential programs. The Coalition began as a grass roots movement in 1980 by identifying the needs of victims of domestic violence, building resources, coordinating state and local initiatives to create further awareness of the devastation experienced by families, advocating for improved laws to protect victims and most recently focusing more efforts on prevention. For more information visit www.icadvinc.org.

Race Away From Domestic Violence

The annual ICADV 5K run, walk and wheelchair roll was held on August 15 2009 at the IUPUI Michael A. Carroll Stadium. Approximately 850 participants and more than 25 teams supported this public awareness and fundraising event.

Team Heather's Voice led the way with more than 100 team members.
